

Substance: Pink and Purple, Stone, and Flowers

Substance Sub-Themes

A few of the miscellaneous themes found within the proving can be traced back to the substance itself.

Lepidolite is an iridescent purple colored mineral. People had dreams with pink and purple in them. They also had dreams with a sense of order or structure to them (the mineral). Interestingly there was also a theme of flowers and feminine type garments. This seems to be a combination of the “playfulness” with the “mother imagery.”
